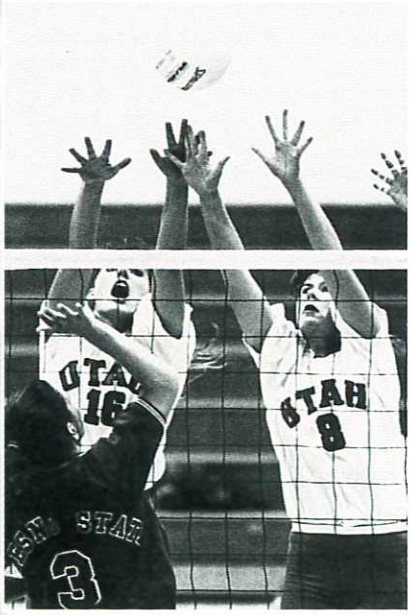
1996 SEASON PREVIEW

FOUNDATION IN PLACE FOR SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN IN THE NEW WAC

It is often said that the best way to fully understand something is to experience it. If that holds true, the Blockin' Utes should possess the knowledge necessary to post a 20-win season against a very competitive schedule in 1996, and put themselves in position to earn the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament berth.

With a rotation last season consisting of two freshmen and two sophomores, Utah navigated through a schedule that included 13 matches against NCAA Tournament teams and seven dates with opponents ranked in the Top 25. Utah defeated one of those teams, shutting out No. 16 Brigham Young at Crimson Court, and took three others to five games.

Callused from the toughest schedule drawn up since head coach Beth Launiere took over the program in 1990, a still relatively young but seasoned Ute squad returns in '96. Four starters and three other letterwinners are back from last year's team, including AVCA all-District VII and first-team all-Western Athletic Conference selection Brenda Barton, and 1995 WAC Freshman of the Year Maria Moen. Utah will miss the services of Katie Tagge, a three-year starter at setter who finished her career in second place on the school's all-time assists chart, and Rene Maggard, the team's top defensive player and passer from a year ago.



WAC Freshman of the Year Maria Moen (right) ranked 10th in the conference in hitting efficiency and sixth in blocking in '95. Sara Shakula (left) averaged 2.88 kills per game during the WAC season.

"The setting position will be a question mark early in the season because we'll miss Katie's experience," Launiere says, "but I have confidence in the new people we have there. We'll also miss Rene's passing early on until we redevelop that part of our game.

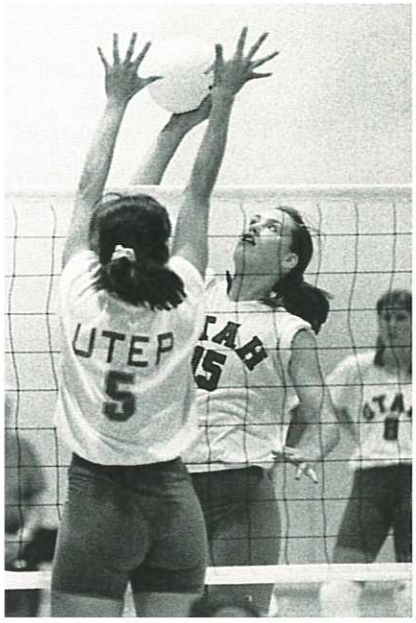
"However, we don't lose very much offensively. Nothing is lost at the net where the game is played. This team has the most versatility of any I've coached here, which means we can now be more creative in our game plan and make more adjustments from match to match. Plus, we're a year more experienced, more mature and physically stronger. All the pieces are in place for us to have a very good season."

"This team has the most versatility of any I've coached here.... Plus, we're a year more experienced, more mature and physically stronger. All the pieces are in place for us to have a very good season."

- Beth Launiere

Utah returns its biggest swingers in Barton, Moen and Sara Shakula, a threesome that accounted for nearly 60 percent of the Utes' kills last season. Barton, a 6-0 junior outside hitter from Farmington, Utah, led the Western Athletic Conference in kills overall (4.29 kpg) and in league-matches (4.92). She also used her powerful jump serve to pace the WAC in service aces (0.53 sapg) in conference action.

Moen, a former member of the Norwegian National Team, is the first Ute ever to earn conference freshman of the year honors. Unequalled on the team for consistency, the middle blocker ranked 10th in the conference in hitting efficiency (.262) and sixth in the league in blocking (1.33 bpg) in '95. Shakula, who averaged 2.49 kills per game last season as strictly a front row player, will play all the way around this year, allowing the 5-11 sophomore from Draper, Utah, to utilize her strong jump serve.



Brenda Barton, who earned AVCA all-District VII and first-team all-conference honors last season, returns as one of the top players in the Western Athletic Conference.

"Brenda will be the leader of this team in terms of the one knowing what it takes to get it done, and she's ready for that," says Launiere. "She played with a painful stress fracture most of last season and still developed into our go-to player. As good as she is, she can get a lot better in several areas. That's her challenge now.

"Maria had a great first season, but her game was nowhere near where it could be," Launiere continues. "Her conditioning has improved, and because of that she will be more dynamic. Sara's all-around game has improved. She is a big offensive weapon who will get more sets this year, and is ready to handle the added responsibility."

The setting duties will be in good hands despite the loss of Tagge. Jamie Young, a 6-2 junior from West Valley, Utah, ranked 10th in the conference with 4.58 assists per game, working behind Tagge in the 6-2 offensive set. Young takes over as the Utes' top play maker this season following a great spring in which she improved both her technical skills and decision making ability.

"Simply put, Jamie is the key to what kind of offense we go with," Launiere says. "My goal is to find a line-up that fits our personnel. Her versatility naturally lends itself to the 6-2, and because of that we can put a big team on the floor. Our outside hitters are also more versatile than they were last year, which will allow us to be more creative. We now have the ability to change according to what our opponents do, and that's important because the game is heading in that direction."

Graciela Torres, a 5-8 freshman from Santa Rosa, Calif., will fill Tagge's former position. Torres, who earned second-team high school All-America honors last year, played for a nationally renowned club program (Empire) and technically is very sound. "Graciela is also a tremendous athlete who is very headstrong and confident in herself as a player," Launiere says. "Those are great qualities in a setter. She could have an immediate impact on this team."

Sundown Yeoman, a 6-0 senior, will give Utah an experienced and mature back-up setter behind Young and Torres. The Utes gain a fourth setter and defensive specialist in Salt Lake City native Sarah Smith, who joins the team as a walk-on after two years at Dixie College.

Returning in the middle blocking position along with Moen are Amanda Van Schalkwyk and Emily Kimball. Depending upon which offense Launiere employs, both could start alongside the other or vie for the same spot in the rotation.

"If we're going to be a championship team, we need to believe we are a championship team."

- Beth Launiere

Van Schalkwyk, a 6-0 senior, improved by leaps and bounds last season. The native of Bountiful, Utah, ranked eighth in the WAC in blocking in league contests (1.24 bpg) and averaged 1.47 kills in 104 games. Kimball, one of the two tallest players on the roster with Young at 6-2, saw her court time increase significantly as the season progressed and played in 20 games.

"No matter what role Amanda fills, she will be a key player for us this season," Launiere says. "She is a solid blocker with a lot of experience who is very disciplined.

"Emily had a great spring and made huge strides. She plays the game higher above the net than anyone else on our team, and is on her way to becoming a dominant blocker."

Freshman Brooke Barton joins her older sister Brenda at the U. this season. Brooke, a 5-10 outside hitter, was named the regional MVP this past spring while playing for the High Country club team. "Brooke is physically and mentally ready to play at this level," Launiere says. "Because of her passing and defensive abilities, she can give us back something that we lost from last year right away. She is also used to handling the pressure of big games."

Lisa Wilson, another newcomer, will challenge for court time as an outside hitter and middle blocker. The 6-1 Bakersfield, Calif., native is a big, strong player who also comes from a strong club program (Kern River).

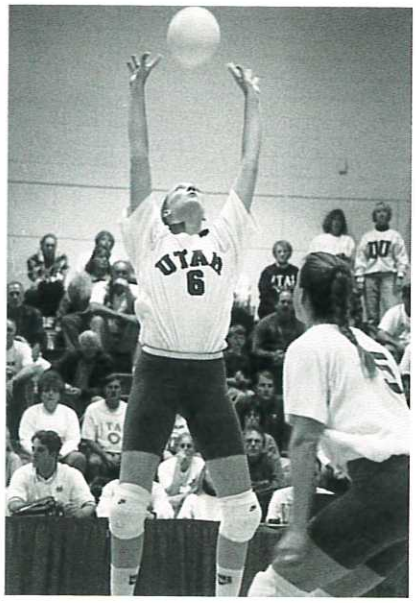
Stacie Greenwalt will be activated this fall following a redshirt season. The 6-1 middle blocker, who has four years remaining, is the most physical and strongest player Launiere has ever coached and will be an asset in tough blocking match-ups.

The Utes will compete in the newly-expanded 16-team Western Athletic Conference, playing a round-robin schedule in the Mountain Division where Utah, Brigham Young and New Mexico appear to be cream of the crop. Utah also has a cross-over series with perennial national power Hawai'i of the Pacific Division. The WAC champion will be crowned from a 12-team field at the first-ever WAC Tournament, Nov. 26-30 at the MGM Grand Garden arena in Las Vegas.

"With the new league, all of us (teams) will have to take a whole different approach this year," Launiere says. "Now we will be playing our regular season to earn a high seed in the WAC Tournament, where an NCAA bid could be won or lost. My goal is to finish second in our division in the regular season, which would make us one of the top four seeds and earn us a first-round bye in the WAC Tournament."

If the Utes can achieve just that, they would put themselves in strong contention for a Top 25 national ranking and an NCAA Tournament bid. Both would be firsts for a program that has shown steady improvement under Launiere's guidance, making 1996 potentially a season of historic proportions.

"If we're going to be a championship team," says Launiere, "we need to believe we are a championship team."



Junior Jamie Young, who ranked 10th in the WAC in assists in '95, returns as the Utes' top setter.

FIRST SERVE

UTAH CLASSIC

The Utes open the 1996 season by hosting the Utah Classic, Aug. 30-31, at Crimson Court. The Classic, staged five times since 1989, features four teams in a round-robin format. This year's field includes 1995 NCAA Tournament qualifier Iowa State of Big Eight Conference, Oregon of the Pac-10 Conference and Boise State from the Big Sky Conference. Utah's first match is against Oregon on Aug. 30 at 7:00 p.m.

LAUNIERE AIMS FOR 100

With Utah's fifth victory this season, head coach Beth Launiere will have reached the 100 career victory plateau. In her seventh season at Utah, Launiere has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors. Launiere became Utah's winningest coach when she notched her 81st career win on Nov. 19, 1994.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Utah's '96 schedule includes 11 matches against nine teams that participated in post-season play last season. The Utes face seven programs that played in the 1995 NCAA Tournament: Brigham Young (twice), Central Florida, Colorado, Hawai'i (twice), Iowa State, Long Beach State and UCLA. Hawai'i and UCLA both reached the regional finals. Utah also faces Pittsburgh and Rice, who earned bids to the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

NUMBERS COMING BACK

Utah returns four starters and seven letterwinners overall from the 1995 season. A statistical breakdown of what the Utes bring back in '96.

HEAD COACH

In just six seasons, Beth Launiere has turned the Utah volleyball program into a consistent winner.

Launiere, the winningest coach in school history, has overseen a significant transformation since her arrival in 1990. Among her numerous accomplishments, Launiere has guided the Utes to upper division finishes in the Western Athletic Conference—one of the top five volleyball leagues in the nation—two of the last three years. In 1995, Utah appeared in the national polls and defeated a ranked opponent; both firsts for the program. Two other milestones were surpassed in '93, when Utah posted a 25-win season and was extended a postseason bid to the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

To fully appreciate what Launiere has accomplished, one must reflect on where she began. The season prior to Launiere's arrival, Utah compiled a 1-32 record. In her first season at the helm in 1990, Launiere coached the Utes to six more wins than were recorded the previous year, and instilled a new competitive attitude within the program. The instant improvement enabled Launiere to elevate the level of play, and bring excitement and fan support back to Utah volleyball.

In Launiere's second season, Utah more than doubled its win total again, going 15-20. In only her third season, she won 18 games—the first winning season in seven years—and opened the door to many of the milestones passed since then.

The 1993 Utes produced the school's most successful campaign ever, going 25-11 and placing fourth in the WAC. Utah also earned its first postseason berth, placing third in the NIVC. Both the Utes as a team, and senior Mikki Kane-Barton, led the nation in blocks—a first for any team in the Western Athletic Conference. As a result of the growing fan interest, Utah set a single-season record for attendance.

In 1994, Launiere won her 81st career match at Utah and became the winningest coach in school history. A pair of Launiere's products, Sharman Grant and Julie Kirby, became career statistical leaders. Grant graduated as the all-time leader in kills and service aces, while Kirby left the U. with the top mark in digs. The Utes were invited to participate in the NIVC for a second-consecutive year, but declined to participate.

Last season, Utah equalled its best WAC finish ever, placing fourth with a 7-7 record. With two freshmen and two sophomores in the top seven, the Utes' success surprised many after they were picked sixth in the conference coaches' pre-season poll. Utah had its best start to the conference season ever with three-consecutive wins. Included in that streak was a 3-0 shutout of No. 16 Brigham Young on Crimson Court, which marked Utah's first defeat of a nationally ranked opponent in a decade and ended a 21-match losing streak to the Cougars. The all-time single-season attendance record was broken once again, with over 8,200 fans flocking to Crimson Court in 1995.

Two of Launiere's young guns earned conference postseason recognition. Sophomore Brenda Barton was named first-team all-WAC and Maria Moen was honored as the WAC Freshman of the Year. Katie Tagge, a second-team all-league selection, concluded her career in second place on the Utah all-time assists chart.

Launiere gained coaching experience on the international level this summer, taking the U.S.A. All-Star Team on a two week tour of England. The team, consisting of girls 14-17 years of age, was sponsored by the U.S.A Volleyball Youth Developmental Program.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native spent two successful seasons (1988-89) as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. While Launiere was with the Fightin' Illini, they went to two NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the 1988 Final Four and posted a 57-12 record.

Launiere was an assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, where she helped guide the Bulldogs to three postseason appearances and a berth in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere is a 1985 graduate of Aquinas College (Mich.), where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics. She also has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

The 33-year-old Launiere is the fifth coach in 20 years at Utah and has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors.

LINDA BYINGTON

ASSISTANT COACH

Linda Byington begins her third season as a full-time coach at Utah after serving as a part-time coach in 1992-93. Her primary responsibilities include coordinating the Utes' recruiting efforts, as well as on-court instruction.

Byington also plays professionally for the Utah Predators of the National Volleyball Association. A two-year starter at middle blocker, Byington led the league in blocks per game in '94-95 and helped the Predators capture NVA regular-season title in '95-96.

Byington, who is still Utah's career leader in hitting efficiency with a rating of .305, played two years for the Utes under head coach Beth Launiere. Byington led the team in six categories in 1991: matches played (35), games played (126), kills (486), block solos (44) and block assists (132). She was a first-team all-WAC selection in 1991 and a second-team honoree in 1990.

A transfer from Ricks (Idaho) Junior College, Byington was all-conference, all-region and Academic All-America. She led Ricks to a two-year mark of 93-19. As a freshman, the team posted a 44-9 record, won a region championship and was ranked 11th in the nation. In 1989, Ricks finished with an all-time best mark of 49-10 and a No. 7 national ranking. Byington was awarded the Betty Hatch Ideal Female Athlete Award.

A standout at Bonneville (Idaho) High School, Byington was twice named the team's MVP. She was an all-state and all-conference performer in volleyball and basketball. Byington was born Feb. 12, 1970.

JIL ROBINS

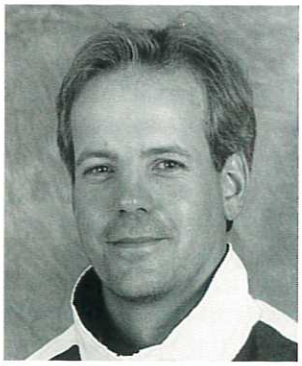
ASSISTANT COACH

Jil Robins is in her second season as an assistant coach with the Ute volleyball program after an outstanding playing career at the University of Wyoming. Robins' primary responsibilities include working with the setters, scouting and videotape editing and compilation of stats.

In the off-season, Robins plays professionally for the Utah Predators of the National Volleyball Association.

Robins, a four-year starter at Wyoming, was a first-team all-WAC selection and a second-team all-West Region choice by the American Volleyball Coaches Association in 1994. At the end of her career, Robins was rated in the top-10 in five career statistical categories at UW: second in digs (1,033) and service aces (103), third in assists (3,592) and games played (420), and ninth in blocks (294). Her 1,376 assists in '94 rank as the second-best total in a single season.

Robins, born Nov. 18, 1971, is a native of Bend, Ore. She graduated from Wyoming in May of 1995 with a degree in English.



CORY SOLOMON

VOLUNTEER COACH

Cory Solomon, a veteran coach at the high school and junior club levels, joins the Ute volleyball staff this season as a volunteer coach. Solomon was an assistant coach for four years at Taylorsville High School (1992-95) and is entering his 10th year with the Twin Peaks Junior Olympic Boys' Club.

At the junior club level, Solomon has worked with six players who are currently competing at the collegiate level. Among those are Angie Walker, who is a member of the Brigham Young women's team; and Tory Tukafu and Kennan Vance, who play for the BYU men's team. Solomon has also coached Tim Jensen, a member of the U.S. Junior Youth National Team. Tukafu and Jensen were named All-Americans at the U.S. Junior Olympic Boys' Tournament this past summer.

Solomon graduated Cum Laude from the University of Utah in 1988 with a bachelor of science degree. The 34-year-old Solomon resides with his wife, Vickie, in Salt Lake City.

CONSULTANTS

MARY BOWMAN
Director of Student-Athlete Welfare

Mary Bowman, who earned her master's degree in educational psychology from the U. in 1988, became the Utah athletic department's first-ever director of student-athlete welfare in June. Bowman oversees the areas of academic advising, career planning and placement, sports medicine, strength training and conditioning, and the new CHAMPS/Lifeskills Program.

Bowman received her B.A. from Northern Colorado in 1970. She then became a teacher and volleyball coach at Eagle Valley High School (Colo.), where she was named coach of the year in 1977, and East High School in Salt Lake. The Iowa native has also been involved in ACT testing and training programs, and the training of high school students in alcohol and drug peer leadership.

Mary and her husband, John, have two sons: J.J. (20), who attends the U., and Chris (14).

DR. JANE MINER
Performance Enhancement Consultant

Dr. Jane Miner, a consultant certified by the Association for the Advancement of Applied Sport Psychology (AAASP), is in her fifth year with the Utah volleyball team. Miner teaches the coaches and athletes mental skills, helping them develop more control and consistency in their performance. Miner works directly with eight Utah teams and is accessible to all student athletes. She has also served as a consultant to numerous high school and college teams.

Miner was an assistant professor in the U. Department of Exercise and Sport Science for seven years before embarking on her own performance enhancement consultant business. The Mapleton, Utah, native received bachelor's and master's degrees from Brigham Young in physical education (1971) and health (1973), and a doctorate from Utah in the psycho-social aspects of sport (1986).

KATHY ENGELBERT-FENTON
Nutrition Consultant

An instructor in the U. College of Health, Kathy Engelbert-Fenton is in her fourth year as nutrition consultant for the Ute volleyball team. Her Utah athletic portfolio also includes nine years as a nutrition consultant for the multi-national champion Utah gymnastics team and seven years with the women's basketball team. Engelbert-Fenton received a bachelor's degree in psychology from UC Santa Barbara in 1974, and a master's of public health degree in nutrition and health education from Loma Linda in 1980. The Lafayette, Calif., native is married to Michael Engelbert-Fenton. The couple has a daughter, Leah, and a son, Luke.

DEB WILLARDSON
Associate Director of Sports Medicine

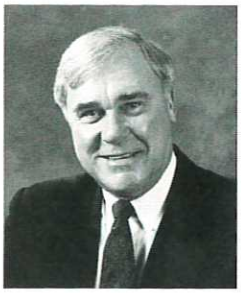
Deb Willardson, certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), is in her 20th year as head women's trainer and her second as associate director of sports medicine at Utah. She recently graduated from the U. physical therapy program. Willardson earned her bachelor's degree in physical education and teaching in 1975 from Utah State, where she competed in volleyball and basketball. Willardson received her master's in physical education and athletic training from Utah in 1977.

TROY MALSON
Strength Coach

Troy Malson is in his third year with the Utah volleyball team. He is responsible for coordinating the team's strength and conditioning programs. Malson is in his fifth year overall at the U., working two years as a graduate assistant strength coach before moving into his present full-time position. He received his bachelor's degree in health from Luther College (Decorah, Iowa) in 1992 and his master's in exercise and sport science from Utah in '94.

BOBBI WILLIAMS
Athletics Academic Services

Entering her fourth year as an academic advisor at Utah, Bobbi Williams has worked five years total in collegiate athletics. In addition to working with volleyball, Williams also serves as the academic advisor for the Ute men's basketball team. The Winchester, Ill., native worked at Illinois State University two years prior to coming to the U. Williams earned her bachelor's degree in psychology from Eureka College in 1990 and her master's in sports administration from Illinois State in 1993.



DR. ARTHUR K. SMITH

PRESIDENT

Dr. Arthur K. Smith, 12th president of the University of Utah, is nationally recognized for his strong administrative skills and leadership, and lauded for his ability to anticipate key strategic issues in the University's future.

Now beginning his sixth year as the U.'s president, the 59-year-old Smith and his wife June came to Utah in 1991 after his having served as provost and executive vice president at the University of South Carolina. He was also interim president and chief executive officer for the University of South Carolina system during 1990-91.

Since his arrival, Dr. Smith has worked tirelessly to raise the University's academic stature and to secure financial support for all phases of its ambitious mission. Teaching and the campus libraries have received priority status. Annual sponsored research has increased during his five-year tenure by more than a third, to a total of more than $160 million during 1995-96, and annual private giving to the University has grown by more than 50 percent, surpassing $70 million last year. Private, federal and state funds have been secured for several new campus buildings. In anticipation of the University's major role in hosting the 2002 Winter Olympic Games, Dr. Smith is leading the planning for the Athletes Village, which after the Games will serve as a state-of-the-art residence hall complex for undergraduates, and the fund-raising drive for the expansion and modernization of Rice Stadium, which will be the site of the opening and closing ceremonies.

President Smith has launched a new long-range development plan which encompasses the current physical plant, transportation and parking issues, and the expansion of branch campuses. He also has initiated and overseen an intensive planning effort for the future of the University's renowned Health Sciences Center.

Smith began his academic career at the U.S. Naval Academy, where he earned a bachelor's degree in electrical and marine engineering in 1959. He earned varsity letters during three years as Navy's top sprinter on the indoor and outdoor track teams (his Navy record of 6.2 seconds for the 60-yard dash stood unbroken for several decades after his graduation).

After six years on active duty as a naval officer and aviator from 1959-65, Dr. Smith completed his master's degree in international relations and Latin American studies from the University of New Hampshire in 1966. He earned his doctorate in government and Latin American Studies from Cornell University in 1970. During 1968-69, he and his family lived in Mexico City, where he was a visiting professor at El Colegio de Mexico.

Before serving at the University of South Carolina, he spent 18 years (1970-88) at the State University of New York at Binghamton, where he was vice president for administration, the chief business and financial officer. During his tenure there he was also provost for graduate studies and research, and professor and chairman of the department of political science. Smith has authored several books, articles and monographs. He has been elected for membership in a number of professional honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Pi Sigma Alpha, Beta Gamma Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa. Dr. and Mrs. Smith are also both very active in Utah community affairs.

Natives respectively of Derry and Manchester, New Hampshire, Dr. and Mrs. Smith are the parents of three children—Arthur, Valerie, and Meredith—and have nine grandchildren. The Smiths now consider themselves Utahns, and they are visible and avid supporters of the U.'s men's and women's athletics teams. Together they are themselves widely regarded as a team, one that is full of energy and dedicated to leading the University of Utah into the 21st century.

DR. CHRIS HILL

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Dr. Chris Hill has steered University of Utah athletics into a position of national prominence during his eight years as director of athletics. Under Hill's direction, Utah athletic teams have achieved unprecedented success, both on the competitive field and in the classroom. Hill has also made a name with his administrative peers: He is past chair of the NCAA Division IA Athletic Directors Committee on Certification and one of 12 members on the NCAA's National Certification Committee and served as a member of the NCAA Special Committee on Restructure. He was also on the Executive Committee of Division I-A Athletic Directors and on the WAC television negotiating committee.

But Hill's biggest strides have come on the U. campus, where he has been the man behind the most successful era in the school's 103-year athletic history. His tenure has been charged with capital improvements, an emphasis on student-athlete welfare and academics, the hiring of nationally-respected coaches, and winning programs.

Hill was the driving force behind several new, national-caliber athletic facilities at the U: the George S. Eccles Tennis Facility, the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center, the Thomas Kearns McCarthey Practice Field, Ute Softball Field, Crimson Court (volleyball), Ute Soccer Field, and a bubbled indoor practice structure. On Hill's drawing board is the renovation and expansion of Rice Stadium, and a new gymnastics training facility.

Off the playing field, the one-time instructor in the U.'s education department has maintained his academic roots. Hill's insistence on academic performance has improved Utah's athlete graduation rate dramatically. The budget for academic support has increased dramatically during Hill's stay, and two new computer labs have been created for student-athletes.

Since accepting the athletics director position back in the 1987-88 academic year, Hill has hired head coaches in men's basketball, football, softball, baseball, volleyball, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and men's golf. Those hires have produced the best teams in their respective sports in school history. All of Utah's 19 sports have benefitted from Hill's presence.

In the 1990s, the women's gymnastics team has won four NCAA Championships. The men's basketball team twice reached the NCAA 'Sweet Sixteen and claimed three WAC titles. The women's basketball team won the 1995-96 WAC title and qualified for the NCAA tournament. The Ute football team won a school-record 10 games (10-2) in 1994 and finished the season with a best-ever No. 10 Associated Press ranking. The U. grid team, recipient of a bowl invitation from 1992-94, was WAC co-champion last year—its first WAC crown in 31 years. The Ute softball team qualified for the 1991 and '94 College World Series, finishing fifth in the nation in 1994. The ski team won the NCAA title in 1993 and '96. Virtually all of Utah's sports have moved into the upper tier of the WAC.

Hill took the reins of the Ute program after two years as the athletic department's chief fund-raiser. As director of development, he instigated tremendous growth and virtually overhauled Utah's fund-raising arm—the Crimson Club—from 1985-87. The New Jersey native first came on board at the U. as a graduate assistant basketball coach for Bill Foster (1973-74), and later served as assistant Ute basketball coach under Jerry Pimm (1979-81). Between his two stints with Utah athletics, Hill was executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah (1981-85).

As an undergraduate, Hill lettered three years and was co-captain of the 1971-72 Rutgers basketball team. He graduated from Rutgers in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in mathematics. A master's of education degree (1974) and a Ph.D. in educational administration (1982)—both from Utah—followed. Hill, 46, is married to the former Kathy Cronin—a clinical instructor in the U. special education department. They have two children: Aly (18) and Christopher (14). Aly is a freshman member of the Utah soccer team.

AMY HACKETT

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Amy Hackett, a 10-year veteran of athletic administration, enters her first year as associate athletics director at the University of Utah. Hackett will also be Utah's new senior woman administrator. She replaces Fern Gardner, who retired July 1, after 21 years with the U.

Hackett, the associate athletics director at Santa Clara since 1990, was acting director of athletics in the summer of 1992. From 1986-90, she served as Santa Clara's assistant athletics director for marketing and promotions.

In her new position at Utah, she will be responsible for 15 of Utah's 19 sports: volleyball, soccer, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's swimming and diving, skiing, men's and women's tennis, softball, baseball and golf. She will also oversee the compliance, financial aid, eligibility, equipment and events coordinating areas. Hackett, along with Utah Athletics Director Dr. Chris Hill, will represent the U. at Western Athletic Conference and NCAA meetings.

At Santa Clara, Hackett was involved in virtually all of the areas she will now oversee at the U. She was also director of the West Coast Conference Men's and Women's Basketball Tournament: The men's in 1991 and from 1994-96, and women's from 1992-96. She served on the Advisory Task Force on Women's Issues from 1992-95. Hackett was scheduled to direct the 1996 NCAA Women's Soccer Championship, had she remained at Santa Clara. She will retain her position on the NCAA Women's Soccer Committee—which she has held since 1993—in her move to Utah.

Hackett graduated from Oregon State in 1983 with a degree in physical education (athletic administration emphasis). She earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio in 1986.

1996 WAC TOURNAMENT

NOV. 26-30 • MGM GRAND GARDEN • LAS VEGAS

The Western Athletic Conference proudly presents the 1996 WAC Volleyball Championship Tournament, Nov. 26-30, at the MGM Grand Garden arena in Las Vegas. This tournament will be history in the making as the WAC sponsors its first-ever postseason volleyball championship.

The tournament will feature 12 of the 16 WAC teams in a seeded, single-elimination format showcasing some of the finest NCAA Division I women's volleyball talent in the nation.

First round matches will be played Nov. 26, with the quarterfinals Nov. 27, the semi-finals Nov. 29, and the championship match Nov. 30. The top four seeds will receive first-round byes.

The MGM Grand Garden is a 15,000-seat facility that will be reconfigured to hold 7,000 fans for the tournament. It is part of the world's largest hotel complex—the massive MGM Grand in Las Vegas. The MGM Grand Hotel will also serve as the tournament headquarters for WAC teams, fans and media.

A LOOK BACK AT '95

UTES FINISH IN WAC'S UPPER DIVISION; BARTON, MOEN AND TAGGE RECEIVE HONORS

The 1995 season was one filled with milestones as Beth Launiere continued to build the Utah volleyball program into a consistent winner.

The young Utes, playing with two freshmen and two sophomores in the top-seven, captured the attention of the rest of the Western Athletic Conference by opening the league season with a three-game sweep over 16th-ranked Brigham Young on Sept. 22. A frenzied crowd of 1,389, the second largest ever assembled at Crimson Court, played a big part in the program's first defeat of a ranked opponent in a decade, and saw Utah's 21-match losing streak to the Cougars come to an end. Utah followed up its defeat of BYU with wins over Wyoming (3-0) and Colorado State (3-1) at Crimson Court to post its best start to the WAC season ever. The Utes finished the first half of the conference schedule with a 5-2 record, good enough for second place.

With the excitement surrounding the Utah/BYU series at an all-time high, the two teams ushered in the second half of the WAC season on Oct. 20 in front of over 2,800 fans at Smith Fieldhouse in Provo, Utah, and a cable television audience on Prime Sports. It was the first time Utah had been featured on a regional telecast. The Cougars' 3-1 margin of victory didn't paint a true picture of the match, with Utah winning the second game 15-2 and dropping the first and fourth games 15-13.

Picked sixth in the WAC pre-season coaches' poll, Utah ended the league season in fourth place with a 7-7 record, equaling the best league finish in Launiere's six-year tenure. It was the second time in three seasons that the Utes finished in the WAC's upper division.

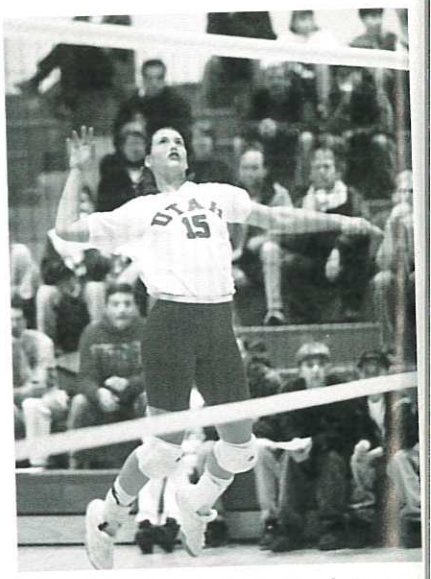
Utah went 14-17 overall in '95, with 12 of those losses coming to teams invited to the NCAA Tournament. The Utes' top-heavy schedule also included seven dates with opponents ranked in the Top 25. In addition to defeating Brigham Young, the Utes gave No. 17 San Diego State, No. 19 Texas A&M and No. 24 Georgia all they could handle before succumbing in five games.

The consistent success the program has experienced under Launiere has resulted in increased fan interest. Utah drew an all-time record 8,213 fans to Crimson Court last season, averaging nearly 600 fans per home match.

The Utes began the 1995 campaign with impressive performances in two invitationals. Utah placed second in the Cyclone Tournament (Sept. 1-2) in Ames, Iowa, defeating Valparaiso and Western Michigan before losing to Iowa State in the championship match. Jamie Young, who posted a triple-double with 11 kills, 22 assists and 10 digs against Western Michigan, was named to the all-tournament team along with senior Katie Tagge. The following weekend (Sept. 8-9), Utah finished sixth at the prestigious UC Santa Barbara/Paul Mitchell Classic, a tournament that featured four Top 25 teams.

"We showed our potential at those two early season tournaments," Launiere said. "I could see us getting better and better, but we were still inconsistent because of our youth. At the start of the WAC season we hit a spot where our level of play caught up to our potential, and we were playing very well.

"Last season was a learning experience, and I was very pleased with how much we improved," the Ute head coach continued. "We played a lot of tough teams, and I think the more times players are put in those kind of positions, the more they will learn from it.



AVCA all-District VII selection Brenda Barton.

The core of the team was very young, and when you're young it's tough to sustain a high level of intensity. I think that at the end of the year we just got worn out mentally and emotionally. That's not O.K. though. We need to learn from last year and be tougher this season."

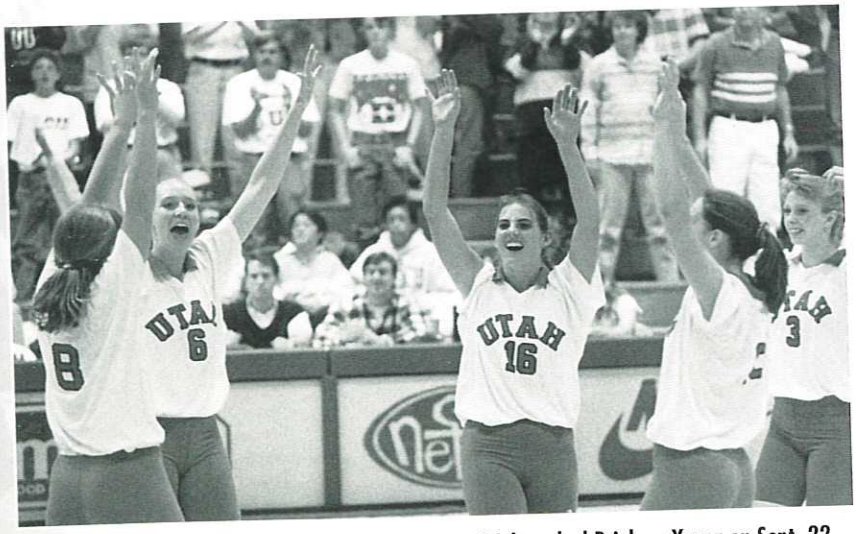
Utah featured some of the best young hitters in the WAC in '95. Sophomore outside hitter Brenda Barton, an AVCA all-District VII and first-team all-conference selection, averaged 4.92 kills and 0.53 service aces during the league season to lead the WAC.

Barton's 49 service aces tie for second-best in a single season at the U. Her 459 kills and 1,134 attacks rank fifth and sixth, respectively. Barton also set match records in 1995 for kills in a four-game match (27 vs. Colorado State, Sept. 30), attacks in a three-game match (55 vs. New Mexico, Nov. 17) and a five-game match (67 vs. UTEP, Nov. 19), and most service aces in a three-game match (7 vs. Brigham Young, Sept. 22).

Maria Moen, named the WAC Freshman of the Year, ranked sixth in the league in blocking (1.33) and 10th in hitting efficiency (.262) overall. Moen's hitting efficiency mark also ranks 10th-best in a single season at Utah. Her 123 block assists and 134 total blocks in '95 rank sixth and 10th-best, respectively, in the Ute record book.

Tagge, a second-team all-WAC selection, finished her career with 3,355 assists, the second-best Ute career total all-time. Tagge's 914 assists in '95 rank sixth on the Utah single-season chart.

Rene Maggard, fourth in career matches played at the U. (121), graduated with the ninth-most digs (716) in school history. Maggard recorded 384 digs l season to rank third on the single-season chart, and se the three-game individual match record with 19 digs against San Francisco on Sept. 8.



The Utes celebrate a key point in their 3-0 win over 16th-ranked Brigham Young on Sept. 22 at Crimson Court.

STEVE LOWE AWARD 1993

On its way to placing third at the 1993 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, Utah earned the Steve Lowe Award, embodying competitive excellence, inspiration and fair play. The award is named in honor of the former head volleyball coach at Wisconsin, who guided the Badgers to the championship of the inaugural NIVC tournament in 1989 and died of cancer in '91.

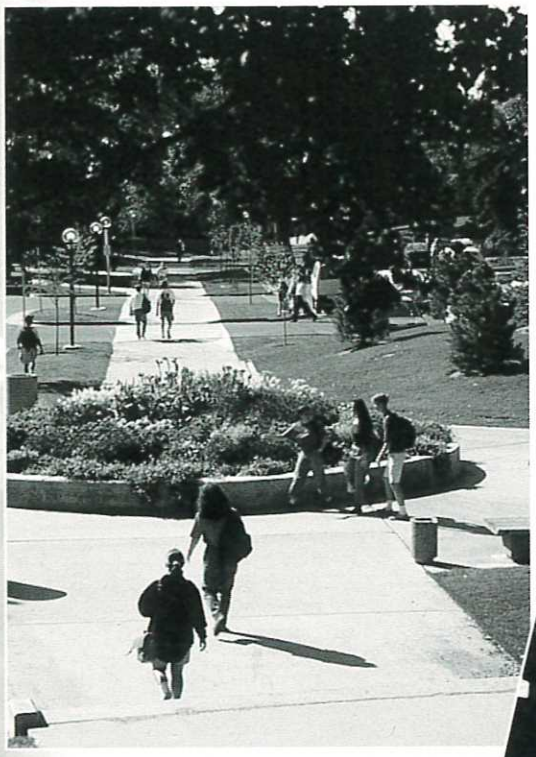
THIS IS UTAH

THE U. AND SALT LAKE CITY

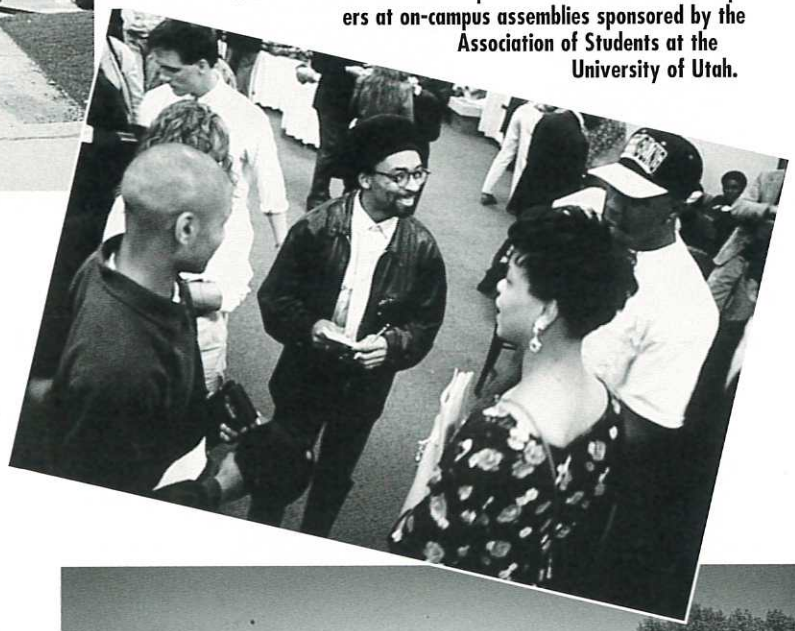


The University of Utah, hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras, boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtakingly gorgeous location. To the east, the towering Wasatch Mountains are snow-capped billboards for a series of popular ski resorts. To the west shimmers the Great Salt Lake. The campus, itself, is a beautiful 1,500-acre collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways, nestled between the Wasatch Range and bustling downtown Salt Lake City.

Utah students enjoy unparalleled outdoor diversions, from skiing at any of eight world-class resorts in nearby canyons, to backpacking, bicycling, fly fishing and river running. Home to the "Greatest Snow On Earth," Salt Lake City was awarded the 2002 Winter Olympic Games.

The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (population 1,475,000) also provides a metropolitan charm: Salt Lake is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as the NBA Utah Jazz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Buzz, the International Hockey League's Utah Grizzlies

Celebrities such as director Spike Lee are often featured speakers at on-campus assemblies sponsored by the Association of Students at the University of Utah.



THE U.

- Founded in 1850
- 120-plus undergraduate degree programs
- 95-percent of faculty have highest terminal degrees
- Enrollment of 27,137
- Located on 1,500 acres of flowering, tree-lined land
- Backdrop is the 11,000-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountain Range
- In the nation's top 10 in technology innovation and commercialization
- Number of National Merit Scholars ranks in top 40 nationally
- Home to national caliber athletic teams, including 10-time national champion gymnastics and nine-time champion ski teams and the Utah Predators of the National Volleyball Association.

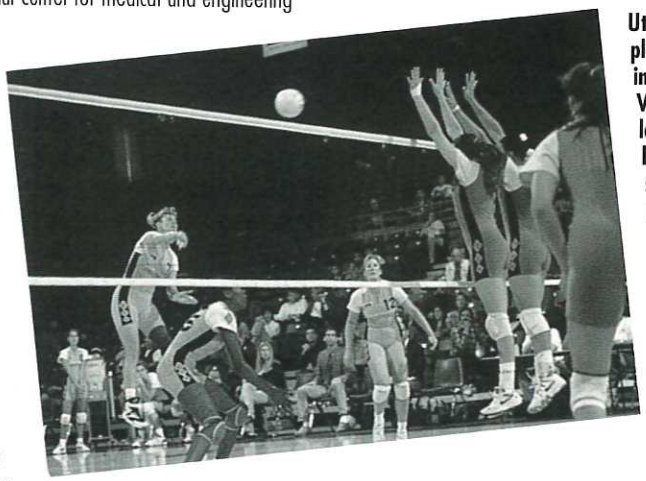
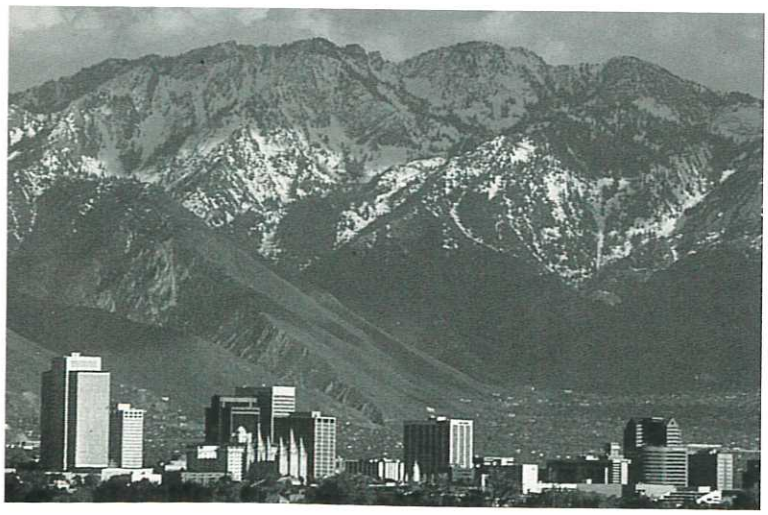
Utah's "economic engine," the University of Utah generates nearly $500 million annually in non-tax revenue and is one of the state's largest employers. It has the only medical, social work, architecture and pharmacy schools in a multi-state area. The U.'s many top-flight facilities include a center for dance, a health sciences center, public radio and television stations, three libraries and numerous centers and laboratories devoted to research. Ninety-five percent of Utah's faculty members hold the highest terminal degree in their fields.

The University, which offers more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and 92 graduate programs, draws its 27,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 110 foreign countries. Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 50 new high-tech companies created by University faculty. The recently established Huntsman Cancer Center and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute combine to make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer. The University also fueled the growth of the "bionic valley," with the invention of the artificial heart, kidney, arm and ear.



Ute assistant volleyball coach Linda Byington (first player on the left in a dark uniform) is shown here in action with the Utah Predators of the National Volleyball Association. The Predators won the regular-season league championship in '95-96, and have led the NVA in attendance in each of their two seasons as a franchise. Pictured to the right of Byington is her teammate Natalie Williams, a member of the USA National Team. Shown hitting in the light uniform is Caren Kemner, who led the USA National Team in the '92 Olympics.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. More than a million people enjoy the University of Utah's athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year. And Utah has earned a reputation as a site of championships in the athletic arena—serving as host to a number of national tournaments, including the 1979 NCAA Basketball Final Four, seven National Women's Gymnastics Championships, and a pair National Women's Tennis and NCAA Ski Championships.



SALT LAKE CITY

- Capital of Utah and the biggest city in the Intermountain West (metro population 1,475,000)
- Host city for the 2002 Winter Olympics
- Salt Lake International Airport has more than 500 daily flights
- Has 10,000 hotel rooms
- Eight world class ski resorts within 40 minutes of the airport
- Located in one of the nation's most scenic areas—nestled between two mountain ranges with 11,000-foot peaks
- Professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies (more professional dance companies than any city but New York City)
- Professional sports teams include the NBA Utah Jazz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Buzz, the Utah Grizzlies of the IHL and the Utah Predators of the National Volleyball Association

ACADEMICS AT UTAH

The University of Utah enjoys a richly deserved reputation as a top-notch academic institution. For the student-athlete, the U. provides the opportunity for an exceptional academic and athletic experience. The Utah athletic department is committed to providing the means for a quality education to every varsity athlete. With three full-time athletic academic advisors, the U. offers specialized academic counseling for its student-athletes. Such features as the athlete study table program, the tutorial program, the career planning program and the fifth-year program have proved invaluable to the student-athlete's learning experience.

Robin James, in her third year on staff, coordinates the entire academic advising effort. Rob Rainey is in his sixth year as the football team's academic specialist. Third-year advisor Bobbi Williams works with all the men's and women's athletes, including the volleyball team. The Ute academic team monitors the academics of each student-athlete to ensure he or she is making progress toward a degree. The academic advisors also dispense their knowledge of departmental and University requirements, and assist with course registration and the exploration and selection of majors.

A CLOSER LOOK

▶ RESEARCH
The U. is an international center for medical and engineering research, and its genetics research ranks among the world's best. The U. ranks among the top 10 most successful universities in technology innovation and commercialization.

▶ TECHNOLOGY
The U. manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 50 new high-tech companies created by University faculty. The recently established Huntsman Cancer Center and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute combine to make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer.

▶ SCHOLARSHIP
In 1995-96, the average ACT score for U. freshmen was 24.1, compared to the national average of 20.8. The number of National Merit Scholars at Utah ranks in the top 40 nationally. The Honors Program is the third-oldest.

The U. is the only school in a multi-state area with a medical school, a professionally accredited architecture college, and an Applied Sport Science program that offers both master's and doctoral degrees. It also has the state's only fully accredited master of physical therapy program.

▶ COMPUTER FACILITIES
Student-athlete computer rooms are located in both the Huntsman Center and the Dee Glen Smith Center. Lap top computers are also available for team travel. One of the first schools to go up on the Internet (in 1970, Utah became the fourth node on the Internet), the U. offers free electronic mail accounts to all students.

ATHLETIC-ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

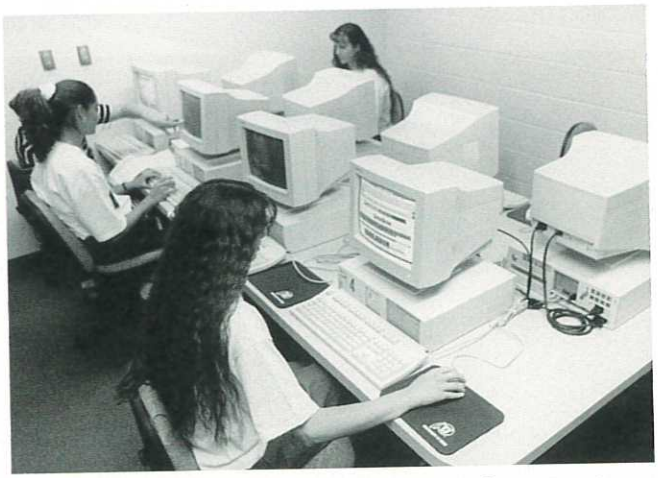
▶ STUDY TABLE
Required of all freshman athletes their first quarter. Open to all athletes, regardless of year or GPA.

▶ TUTORIAL PROGRAM
Individual tutors for any class free of charge

▶ TESTING CENTER
Offers student-athletes information on possible career choices and aptitude tests.

▶ INTERNSHIPS
Athletic academic advisors work closely with the U. Placement and Career Information Center, academic departments and community resources for job and internship placements related to the student's major. A new program, called Partnering with the U., offers career mentoring, shadowing and internship opportunities with area businesses.

▶ FIFTH-YEAR SENIOR PROGRAM
Provides financial assistance to those no longer on athletic scholarship (have finished their four-year athletic career), but who wish to get their degrees.



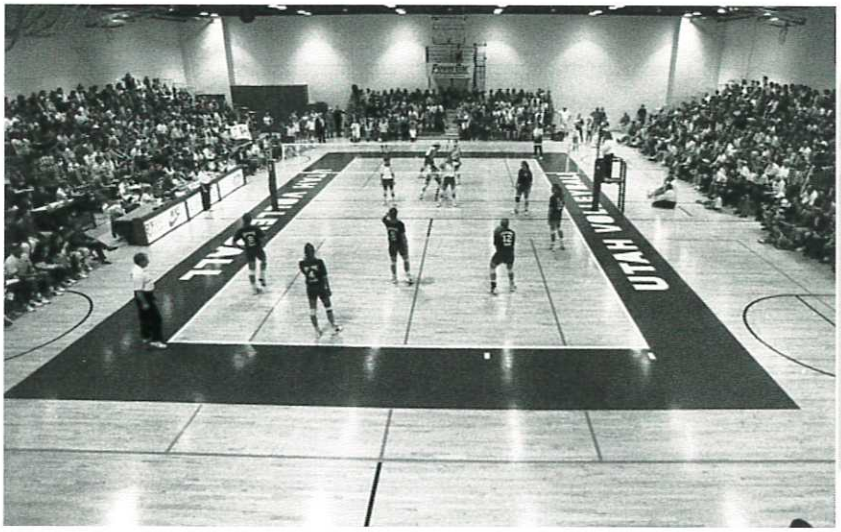
Utah volleyball players have access to the Huntsman Center computer lab, featuring brand new, top-of-the-line hardware and software.

CRIMSON COURT AND UTAH FACILITIES

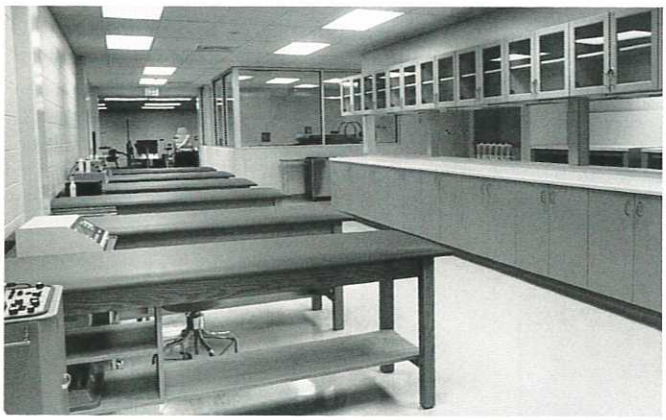
In only four years, Beth Launiere rebuilt the Utah volleyball program. And after the 1993 season, when the Utes set all-time records with 25 wins and a season attendance total of more than 8,200 fans at home matches, the Utah volleyball facility was rebuilt.

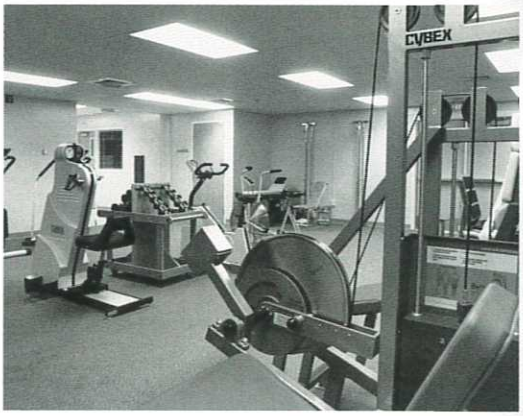
Located in HPER E-101, part of the U. health, physical education and recreation facility directly north of the Jon M. Huntsman Center, Crimson Court underwent a $165,000 renovation. Seating was expanded from 600 to 1,500 with new telescopic plate seats around the entire court. To utilize the full facility, the court direction was rotated 90 degrees and centered within the gymnasium. Also, a new sound system was installed and the floor was refinished with new graphics. The lockkerroom facilities were upgraded as well.

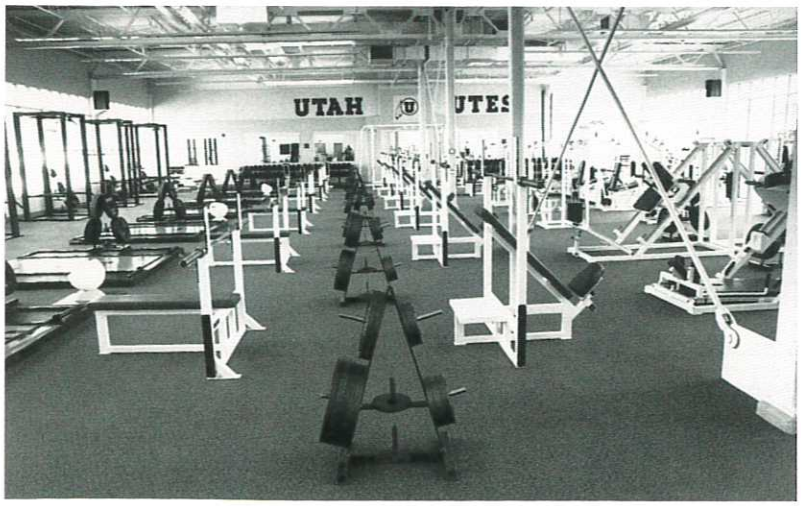
On Sept. 9, 1994, the Utes officially dedicated Crimson Court. The court was christened with a win over Montana State, and a 2-hour and 44-minute, five-game marathon victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic. The largest crowd to attend a Utah volleyball match assembled on Nov. 11, 1994, when 1,569 fans saw Utah battle Western Athletic Conference rival Brigham Young. The second-largest crowd ever at Crimson Court of 1,389 witnessed Utah's stunning three-game sweep of 16th-ranked BYU on Sept. 22, 1995.



The facility is considered one of the finest in the WAC—a league that annually ranks in the top-five nationally in the volleyball power ratings.







In addition to Crimson Court, the Utah volleyball team enjoys the finest strength, rehabilitation and training equipment available in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center, opened in 1991. Its beautiful, modern, fully-stocked strength room is glass-enclosed and overlooks the majestic Wasatch Mountain range. Completing the fabulous strength training area is a spacious training room and injury rehabilitation center.

WESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Western Athletic Conference enters a new era in 1996, becoming the nation's largest NCAA Division I conference. Chartered back in 1962 as a six-team league, the WAC nearly triples its original size starting this fall. The "New WAC" consists of 16 teams, making it the largest conference in the nation. The most recent expansion added six teams for men's sports and eight teams for women's sports. Air Force and Hawai'i, previously WAC members for men's sports, will join Rice, SMU, Texas Christian, Tulsa, UNLV and San Jose State.

A solid base awaits the newcomers. Already in place are four of the six original members: Utah, Brigham Young, New Mexico and Wyoming. In fact, since 1978—when Arizona and Arizona State departed the WAC for the Pacific 10—growth has been the way of the WAC, spawning three decades. "Expansion" programs prior to the 1996 inductees include: Colorado State and UTEP (1967), San Diego State (1978) and Fresno State (1992). Hawai'i and Air Force joined the league for men's sports in 1979 and 1980, respectively.

With the latest expansion of the league, the WAC has adopted a scheduling concept that includes four regionally arranged quadrants. For volleyball competition, each team plays a double round-robin schedule within its division plus one team home and away from the other division for a total of 16 games.

From 1962-90, the WAC sponsored championships for men's sports only. In 1990-91, a merger with the women's-only High Country Athletic Conference (HCAC) formed a single conference under one administrative structure. Presently, the WAC crowns team and individual champions in 20 sports-10 men's and 10 women's.

The WAC was the most geographically diverse conference in the nation even before it accepted the six new members. The WAC territory already reached from the 7,000-foot heights of Laramie, Wyo., to the sea level sprawls of San Diego and Honolulu. The new "Super Conference" extends its boundaries even further yet. As of this fall, the WAC's domain covers nine states and 4,000 miles, crossing five time zones.

Thirteen WAC schools are located in the nation's Top-100 major markets, including four in the Top-20 and three in the Top-10. The mamouth conference is under the direction of commissioner Karl Benson.

"Utah volleyball has positioned itself as one of the top programs in the Western Athletic Conference, on and off the court. We take pride in our student-athletes not only maintaining a balance between academics and athletics, but also developing as people and leaders. The level of success the Utes have experienced over the last four years shows that we have gained the consistency and stability needed to be considered as one of the nation's elite programs. Utah volleyball has grown to the point where every year our goal is to be one of the top teams in the WAC and reach the NCAA Championship."
